

China Weaponizes Gallium

written by | July 9, 2023

CMI Director Alastair Neill begins with: “I think it caught a lot of people by surprise. There was no forewarning, which sometimes comes out of China – they signal things, but not in this case. And of course, I think we’ve always talked that we expected China to weaponize Rare Earths first, not a critical mineral like gallium.