

Frederick Kozak

Frederick Kozak is a Professional Engineer with extensive oil and gas, and international business experience and has more than 25 years involved in capital markets activities. Most notably he was a globally top-ranked sell side equities analyst for his groundbreaking work on South America as well as other jurisdictions. Since leaving the capital markets sector 8 years ago, he has been active in private and public companies in senior executive roles, including co-founding an international E&P company, as well as other domestic and international business ventures.