

West Red Lake Gold Mines' Tom Meredith on building a 'very valuable' gold property to mine

written by InvestorNews | June 16, 2021

In a recent InvestorIntel interview, Tracy Weslosky speaks with Tom Meredith, Executive Chairman of West Red Lake Gold Mines Inc. (CSE: RLG | OTCQB: RLGMF) about how one of the key strategies to developing a 'very valuable' property in the mining industry is to identify a key location with producing mills seeking more gold assets to maintain mill capacity at a cost effective rate.

Sounds simple, yes? In this interview Tom starts with an update on West Red Lake Gold Mines' most recent exploration work and highlight the competitive aspect of the surface gold deposits here. He starts the interview with: "We're working to make this property not only a bigger resource than the 1.1 million ounces that we have so far, but also to make it attractive to mine." West Red Lake Gold, which is located in the Red Lake Gold District host to some of the richest gold deposits in the world, and has as Tom explains in this informative interview all of these compelling variables lining up for West Red Lake Gold shareholders.

About West Red Lake Gold Mines

West Red Lake Gold Mines is a Toronto-based minerals exploration company focused on gold exploration and development in the prolific Red Lake Gold District of Northwest Ontario, Canada. The Red Lake Gold District is host to some of the richest gold deposits in the world and has produced 30 million ounces of gold from high grade zones. The Company has assembled a significant property position totalling 3,100 hectares in west Red Lake (the "West Red Lake Project") which contains three former gold mines located 15 km west of the Red Lake mine complex. The Mount Jamie Mine and Red Summit Mine properties are 100% owned by the Company and the Rowan Mine property is held in a 66%/34% joint venture with Evolution Mining Limited. The West Red Lake Project property covers a 12 km strike length along the Pipestone Bay St Paul Deformation Zone and the Company plans to continue to explore the property both along strike and to depth during 2021.
