

Dacha to participate in Merus Labs bought deal financing

June 12, 2014 (Source: CNW) – Dacha Strategic Metals Inc. (TSX-V: DSM) (“Dacha”) announced today that it has agreed to subscribe for $5 million of common shares of Merus Labs International Inc. (“Merus”) (TSX: MSL, NASDAQ: MSLI) at a price of $1.70 per share as part of the $27.2 million bought deal financing that Merus announced yesterday.

As Dacha announced on June 10, Dacha and Merus have entered into a letter agreement pursuant to which Dacha agreed to invest a minimum of $11 million in Merus in exchange for common shares of Merus. Dacha’s $5 million subscription in the bought deal will count towards that commitment. The remaining not less than $6 million will be invested in Merus pursuant to the “Newco Acquisition” transaction (described in Dacha’s June 10 press release) in which Dacha will contribute funds to a newly formed wholly-owned subsidiary and Merus will acquire that subsidiary in exchange for common shares of Merus. Dacha’s subscription under the Merus bought deal is separate from and not conditional upon completion of the Newco Acquisition and accordingly Dacha will own $5 million of Merus common shares upon completion of the bought deal financing separate and apart from the Newco Acquisition.

Upon completion of the Newco Acquisition, Dacha intends to distribute the Merus common shares that it owns, which would then represent substantially all of Dacha’s assets, to its shareholders with a view to ultimately winding up its operations. This would involve, among other things, delisting Dacha’s shares from the TSX Venture Exchange and Dacha ceasing to be a reporting issuer.
