April 23, 2021 (Source) – Timios Holdings Corp. (Timios) announces the hire of real estate veteran, Jim Steffen, as its EVP of Default Services. The addition of Mr. Steffen is part of Timios' continued growth strategy which includes the expansion of its Default Services to align with Timios' national footprint and service offerings. Mr. Steffen brings to Timios nearly two decades of experience in distressed real estate, REO asset management and mortgage servicing. Over the span of his career, he has directed the management and disposition of over 100,000 residential REO properties comprising gross sales in excess of $11 billion.

This allows us to further provide end to end services to our client base which is aligned with our national footprint. Jim brings a wealth of experience and extensive leadership to this role," said Ray Davison, CEO of Timios Holding Corporation.

Jim Steffen added, “The U.S. real estate industry is ripe for disruption and Timios’ platform is the ideal solution to simplify and expedite the opaque and tedious transaction process. I am very pleased to be part of Timios’ team and look forward to contributing to its continued growth”.
