"We're incredibly excited to be working with B-Real and DGT Enterprise Ltd. on this game," said Darcy Taylor, CEO of LEAF Mobile. "Between B-Real's fascinating lifestyle and LDRLY's experience making the world's most successful cannabis-themed mobile games, players are in for a truly amazing experience."

"I am really excited about the game, it's off the chain. The graphics are dope, the schematics of the game as well," said B-

Real of the new mobile game. “The content itself, your abilities while playing this game – you are going to be blown away by it”.

Players can join this epic, new idle game and work with the hip-hop legend, entrepreneur, and all around badass, B-Real from Cypress Hill, in becoming the top dog in growing his pot business empire. Players can invest profits to expand their grow operation, join hands with some awesome characters and become part of the ‘Insane Asylum’.

The unique gameplay is inspired by B-Real’s actual life and business. Visually, the game has a distinctive and authentic look new to idle games and includes sound and visual effects curated for the mobile gaming space. Players will explore different settings and environments throughout their gameplay journey. Through the first 25 episodes, the stories will take players through 1300+ panels of “comic book” art.
