

Analyst Chris Thompson on eResearch's Initiation Report on Silver Bullet Mines Inc. (TSXV: SBMI)

written by InvestorNews | January 27, 2022

In a recent InvestorIntel interview, Tracy Weslosky spoke with Chris Thompson, President of eResearch Corp. about his 45-page Initiation Report on Silver Bullet Mines Inc. (TSXV: SBMI).

In this InvestorIntel interview, which may also be viewed on YouTube (click here to subscribe to the InvestorIntel Channel), Chris Thompson provided an update on Silver Bullet Mines silver assets located in a safe jurisdiction of Arizona, USA which is the source of the legendary Lone Ranger's silver bullets, made of hammered native silver. In the interview, Chris highlighted the opportunity arising out of the near-term cash flow potential of Silver Bullet Mines as they progress towards the restart of production at their Buckeye Silver Mine in Q1/2022.

To watch the full interview, click here.

About eResearch Corporation

eResearch Corporation is a respected source for institutional-quality, equity research focused primarily on small- and mid-cap companies. The focus is on identifying companies that have interesting prospects, sound management, and significant potential for share price appreciation. The company complements its corporate research coverage with a diversified selection of informative, insightful, and thought-provoking research publications from a wide variety of investment professionals.

The professional investment research and analysis is provided directly to the subscriber network of discerning investors, and electronically through its website, www.eresearch.com.

About Silver Bullet Mines Inc.

Silver Bullet Mines Inc. is a silver and copper exploration and development company with projects in the western USA. Their flagship project is the Black Diamond, close to 5,000 acres in the Miami-Globe copper camp and centered on the Richmond Basin. The basin is the site of the original 1870s native silver discoveries that brought prospectors to the now significant Globe copper camp. The story goes that a scouting party was fired upon by Apache Indians using bullets made of hammered native silver. Thus inspiring the company name – Silver Bullet Mines. The Richmond Basin is the location of several historic high-grade silver-copper mines including: McMorris, La Plata, Helena, Silver Sevens, Buckeye, and numerous associated prospects. Little work or extraction came from this area since the early 20th century as the camp focused on big copper mines. But these mines anchor this section of what is called the Arizona Silver Belt that extends from the famous Silver King near Superior, AZ, and parallels the trend of the major copper deposits including the Magma mine. They believe the high-grade silver is still there waiting for discovery.

To learn more about Silver Bullet Mines Inc., click here

Disclaimer: Silver Bullet Mines Inc. is an advertorial member of InvestorIntel Corp.

This interview, which was produced by InvestorIntel Corp. (IIC) does not contain, nor does it purport to contain, a summary of all the material information concerning the “Company” being interviewed. IIC offers no representations or warranties that any of the information contained in this interview is accurate or complete.

This presentation may contain “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of applicable Canadian securities legislation. Forward-looking statements are based on the opinions and assumptions of the management of the Company as of the date made. They are inherently susceptible to uncertainty and other factors that could cause actual events/results to differ materially from these forward-looking statements. Additional risks and uncertainties, including those that the Company does not know about now or that it currently deems immaterial, may also adversely affect the Company’s business or any investment therein.

Any projections given are principally intended for use as objectives and are not intended, and should not be taken, as assurances that the projected results will be obtained by the Company. The assumptions used may not prove to be accurate and a potential decline in the Company’s financial condition or results of operations may negatively impact the value of its securities. Prospective investors are urged to review the Company’s profile on Sedar.com and to carry out independent investigations in order to determine their interest in investing in the Company.

If you have any questions surrounding the content of this interview, please contact us at +1 416 792 8228 and/or email us direct at info@investorintel.com.

Silver Bullet Mines' Peter Clausi on Commencing Trading on the TSXV and the Global Silver Shortage

written by InvestorNews | January 27, 2022

In a recent InvestorIntel interview, Chris Thompson spoke with Peter Clausi, VP Capital Markets and Director of Silver Bullet Mines Inc. (TSXV: SBMI) about officially commencing trading on the TSX Venture Exchange and about bringing Silver Bullet's pure-play silver mines to production in Globe, Arizona.

In this InvestorIntel interview, which may also be viewed on YouTube (click here to subscribe to the InvestorIntel Channel), Peter provided an update on Silver Bullet's five past-producing silver mines in a very mining-friendly jurisdiction in Arizona with good infrastructure. Having recently closed an oversubscribed financing, Peter said that Silver Bullet is in a very competitive position with its own mill and assay lab which will allow it to have assay results in a day instead of waiting for weeks. He also highlighted the global shortage of silver owing to the absence of a major silver discovery in years and the high demand for silver in the jewelry, electronics, industries, and the health sector.

To watch the full interview, click here

About Silver Bullet Mines Inc.

Silver Bullet Mines Inc. is a silver and copper exploration and development company with projects in the western USA. Their flagship project is the Black Diamond, close to 5,000 acres in the Miami-Globe copper camp and centered on the Richmond Basin. The basin is the site of the original 1870s native silver discoveries that brought prospectors to the now significant Globe copper camp. The story goes that a scouting party was fired upon by Apache Indians using bullets made of hammered native silver. Thus inspiring the company name – Silver Bullet Mines. The Richmond Basin is the location of several historic high-grade silver-copper mines including: McMorris, La Plata, Helena, Silver Sevens, Buckeye, and numerous associated prospects. Little work or extraction came from this area since the early 20th century as the camp focused on big copper mines. But these mines anchor this section of what is called the Arizona Silver Belt that extends from the famous Silver King near Superior, AZ, and parallels the trend of the major copper deposits including the Magma mine. They believe the high-grade silver is still there waiting for discovery.

To learn more about Silver Bullet Mines Inc., click here

Disclaimer: Silver Bullet Mines Inc. is an advertorial member of InvestorIntel Corp.

This interview, which was produced by InvestorIntel Corp. (IIC) does not contain, nor does it purport to contain, a summary of all the material information concerning the “Company” being interviewed. IIC offers no representations or warranties that any of the information contained in this interview is accurate or complete.

This presentation may contain “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of applicable Canadian securities legislation. Forward-looking statements are based on the opinions and assumptions of management of the Company as of the date made. They are inherently susceptible to uncertainty and other factors that could cause actual events/results to differ materially from these forward-looking statements. Additional risks and uncertainties, including those that the Company does not know about now or that it currently deems immaterial, may also adversely affect the Company's business or any investment therein.

Any projections given are principally intended for use as objectives and are not intended, and should not be taken, as assurances that the projected results will be obtained by the Company. The assumptions used may not prove to be accurate and a potential decline in the Company's financial condition or results of operations may negatively impact the value of its securities. Prospective investors are urged to review the Company's profile on Sedar.com and to carry out independent investigations in order to determine their interest in investing in the Company.

If you have any questions surrounding the content of this interview, please email info@investorintel.com.