

Stephen Burega on Romios Gold's Recent Strides Forward in High-Grade Copper Exploration in Nevada

written by InvestorNews | March 11, 2024

In this InvestorNews interview, host Peter Clausi sits down with Stephen Burega, President, CEO, and Director of Romios Gold Resources Inc., (TSXV: RG | OTCQB: RMIOF) to discuss the company's latest exploration achievements. Highlighted in a news release on October 12, 2023, Romios has made significant strides in Nevada by discovering a high-grade copper boulder train at its Kinkaid project within the Walker Lane trend. This discovery, coupled with the identification of possible porphyry-type alterations, led to the staking of sixteen new claims. The exploration uncovered nine mineralized boulders showing copper values averaging 5.03% Cu and noteworthy gold values, suggesting a sizeable mineralized system just waiting to be fully explored. Under the guidance of John Biczok, VP of Exploration, Romios is poised to further investigate these new and existing claims through detailed mapping and sampling.

The company's exploration strategy, as Burega detailed to Clausi, focuses on leveraging Romios' expertise to tap into underexplored areas, showcasing the efficiency and potential of its Nevada projects. With over 25 targets now identified on the Kinkaid property, every expedition uncovers new potential, underscoring Romios' commitment to cost-effective and impactful exploration. This relentless pursuit of discovery highlights the significant prospects and exciting future that Romios Gold Resources Inc. faces in its quest to unearth valuable copper, gold, and silver resources.

Stephen Burega Onsite at the Appia Alces Lake Project in Northern Saskatchewan

written by InvestorNews | March 11, 2024

In an exclusive onsite interview from the Alces Lake Project in Northern Saskatchewan, Stephen Burega, the President of Appia Rare Earths & Uranium Corp. (CSE: API | OTCQX: APAAF), engages with Tracy Weslosky of InvestorIntel to share insights on the progress of the company's drilling program. Burega praises the team's efficiency and the advances made during his inaugural visit to the site, providing Weslosky and her audience with an up-close view of the operations.

He underscores the effective utilization of the budget, revealing that they have successfully completed one-third of the project and are strategically directing their efforts towards uncovering new targets. The interview includes a special appearance by Appia Project Geologist, Kahlen Branning, who offers viewers a glimpse into a core shed and elaborates on the critical minerals present in the samples, namely terbium, neodymium, and dysprosium.

Further into the discussion, Burega outlines the instrumental role of helicopters in the movement of drilling equipment, underscoring the operation's logistical ingenuity. The conversation concludes on an optimistic note as Burega shares the promising future of the Alces Lake project and its potential in rare earth extraction.

Stephen Burega of Appia Provides Updates on Advancing its Rare Earths Projects in Canada and Brazil

written by InvestorNews | March 11, 2024

In this InvestorIntel interview, Byron W King talks with Appia Rare Earths & Uranium Corp.'s (CSE: API | OTCQX: APAAF) President Stephen Burega about the completion of due diligence to acquire a rare earths ionic clay project in Brazil. Situated in a mining-friendly jurisdiction, accessible by road, with several mining operations nearby, Stephen says that the project's mineralogy is similar to that of Serra Verde which has one of the largest ionic clay deposits outside of China.

Highlighting the expertise of their consulting geologist, Don Hains, who wrote the NI 43-101 report for Serra Verde, Stephen discusses how a positive evaluation from Don reinforced their excitement and confidence in the project.

Stephen also provides an update on Appia's flagship Alces Lake Rare Earths (REE) Property in Northern Saskatchewan where they have a work program scheduled to start in June on the highest-priority areas of a major structural corridor.

Stephen also indicates that the Company has approximately C$7 million in the bank with C$3 million dedicated to the Alces Lake project and C$1 million earmarked for the Brazil project once the due diligence is completed.

Stephen Burega of Romios Details Recent Exploration Success at its Gold & Copper Projects in BC and Nevada

written by InvestorNews | March 11, 2024

In this InvestorIntel interview, Byron W King talks to Romios Gold Resources Inc.'s (TSXV: RG | OTCQB: RMIOF) CEO, President, and Director Stephen Burega about Romios' recently discovered high-grade gold veins assaying up to 72.6 g/t Au on the North West Claims Project in Golden Triangle, B.C. Located within an area that is known for very significant large-scale porphyry structures, Stephen discusses the North West Claims Project's proximity to Galore Creek, one of the world's largest undeveloped copper-gold-silver porphyry deposits.

Stephen goes on to discuss Romios Gold's two core projects from its portfolio of projects in Nevada, USA. Highlighting the potential for high-grade gold mineralization at the Scossa Project, a former producing mine, Stephen discusses the potential for mineralization below the previous workings. At the Kinkaid Project in southwestern Nevada, he also discusses rock sampling around previous mine workings that returned "multi-percent copper, high-grade gold, or high-grade silver mineralization".

Stephen Burega on what Survey

Results may offer Romios Gold Shareholders

written by InvestorNews | March 11, 2024

In this interview Peter Clausi has Romios Gold Resources Inc.'s (TSXV: RG | OTCQB: RMIOF) CEO, President, and Director Stephen Burega discuss about being a multi-jurisdictional exploration company focused primarily on gold, copper and silver. Starting the discussion on the "...newly discovered, copper and tungsten bearing skarn" released from the 2022 IP \(Induced Polarization\) survey at the Trek South Project in BC's Golden Triangle, Stephen explains how these results offer the potential for substantial mineralization on the project.

Covering a wide range of topics around Romios Gold's portfolio of assets and projects, Stephen goes on to discuss Romios' Kinkaid Project and Scossa Gold Project in Nevada, which is ranked as one of the top mining jurisdictions in the world. As a former high-grade gold producer, Stephen says that some of the ores at the Scossa Gold Project were so high that it was stored in a bank vault.

Stephen Burega of Romios Gold talks about its 'treasure chest' of properties

written by InvestorNews | March 11, 2024

In this InvestorIntel interview host Byron W King talks to Romios Gold Resources Inc. (TSXV: RG | OTCQB: RMIOF) President and newly-appointed CEO Stephen Burega about Romios's "treasure chest" of exploration properties.

In the interview, which can also be viewed in full on the InvestorIntel YouTube channel (click here), Stephen Burega talks about the company's plans after taking over from Tom Drivas this month and becoming Romios's new CEO. "I was amazed at the company's portfolio," he tells Byron. "It was the main reason why I joined the team – these assets are extraordinary and diverse," including over 400 square kilometers of claims along the southern boundary of Galore Creek, B.C., which has a new 3D model and work for a resource estimate underway.

"We also have a very large block of claims in northwestern Ontario," he tells Byron, "that's surrounding Newmont's Musselwhite mine." Talking about future plans, Stephen says that Romios is "looking at how we can either find a strong partner to move some of these assets forward or else the possibility is very real that we might spin them out." In addition, he says that Romios's Nevada properties are "going to become our primary focus" including two core assets – the former high-grade gold producing Scossa mine and the recently acquired Kinkaid project, which reported quartz vein assay samples of up to 17.9 g/t Au in June.
